that Chairman Ichrod's concern for this legislation is more than justified by the events we see transpiring in Ameirca today -the trend toward greater domestic violence, the extensive indications of increased and the rising su bversion threat

As a Past President of the National Newspaper Association, I am personally calling on each of you to give whatever editorial Past President of the support you can to enlighten your readers and your Senators o the Judiciary Committee may be persuaded to move ahead favorably and get this measure enacted. I am confident that once approved by the Senate, H.R. 14864 will become the law nation of the legislation, I have no hesitation in saving this s good legislation onstitutionally drafted to meet ossible objections from the hallenged, and preferable to hastily drawn executive orders which might be promulgated in the event of a national mergency. If the people of this nation wish to maintain control peir duly elected representatives the Congress and not simply delegate blanket authority to the xecutive branch of governmen you may write or publish in this regard to Chairman Ichord and to your state's Senators in Washington. Professor's Book Wins Award COLUMBIA - June 26 - Dr. Randall E. Torgerson, assistant professor of agricultural economics at the University of Missouri, is the winner of the University's 1969-70 Curators' Publication Award of $1,000 for this book "Producer Power at he Bargaining Table.

The book is a case study the passage of a key piece of legislation The University has published the book regards it as a significant publication in the field of agriculture and farm politics Announcement of Torgerson as the winner of the award was made at a reception held in his honor this afternoon in the Memorial Union in Columbia. The reception was given by the University Press.

Pleasant R. Smith of Mexico. President of the Board Curators, presented the award to Dr. Torgerson.

The University Press describes Dr. Torgerson's book as "effectively demonstrating the new dynamics of farm politics in a legislative context that is more and more under in that is more and more urban in its orientation." Thomas Lloyd, director of the University Press, expects the book to attract much interest in Washington and the national farm organizations.

In his book, Dr. Torgerson traces the passage of Senate Bill 109 through the U. S. Congress.
The bill was designed to permit agricultural producers to organize for bargaining purposes with food processors.

Dr. Torgerson in the book predicts certain realignments that will determine which groups are to dominate the agriculture picture in the United States.

Dr. Torgerson is the first winner of the Curutors'
Publication Award, which was established in 1968 by the Board of Curators. The award is given for the best booklength manuscript by an assistant professor on the faculty of the University and which is accepted for publication by the University Press. The manuscripts, which must represent research, are evaluated and the winner selected by the Curators' Award subcommittee of the University Press committee.

Entries for the 1970-71 award now are being accepted. All faculty members holding the rank of assistant professor on any of the University's four campuses at Columbia, Kansas City, Rolla and St. Louis are eligible to submit manuscripts.

Antidrug Operation Goes Well

WASHINGTON (AP) - The astice Department says it is ghly pleased with initial results f "Operation Cooperation," he joint U.S.-mexican drive to estroy opium poppies and narijuana in Mexico and catch ose who trade in the illicit Citing figures from a report o be published later this week, sob Funesti of the department's Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs listed some examples of arrests due to the wo country cooperation:

-In Mexicali, Mexican police rrested a "major trafficker as he ttempted to deliver one ton of marijuana to a BNDD

Guadalajara, the Mexican army seized five tons of marijuana and arrested 15 U.S. citizens alleged to have arranged to smuggle it into this country.

—In Jalisco, BNDD agents helped when Mexican police captured a fully equipped heroin laboratory, arrested three persons and seized 225 grams of pure heroin.

Other examples involved arrests in New York City, Las Vegas, California and Tucson' Ariz., and elsewhere.

In addition, the Mexican government wiped out 5,745 acres of poppies and 44 tons of marijuans in a drive last spring, Funesti said.

Operation Cooperation started last fall after an earlier antidrug drive—"Operation Intercept" soured U.S.-Mexican relations by creating big jam-ups at U.S. Customs points that discouraged Mexicans working in the United Under Operation Cooperation, the United States week is sending Mexic three light aircraft and five radio-equipped helicopter seating five persons. They are valued at a total $815,000.

In addition, the Mexican overnment will receive $15,000 for remote sensing experiments aimed at detecting opium go for equipment to eradicate the poppies and other drug-yielding plants. Cooperative training programs are planned to widen the pool of people able to detect and eradicate maintain the specialized equipment. Also, the U.S. Customs Bureau as of June 1 had strengthened its Mexico and Canadian border staffs by 900

Voter Turnout Heavy Despite Cong Attacks

Vietnamese officials claimed more than 72 per cent of the voters turned out Sunday for rovincial elections despite Vie Cong attacks that killed at least 22 persons and wounded 81. The highest toll was in the northernmost provinces, where enemy troops mortared Mo Duc, a district town in Quang Ngai Province, killing seven persons and wounding 11 at a polling

In some areas, Viet Con political cadres summoned voters together and warned them not to vote. But government officials claimed 72.6 per cent of the 6.1 million turned out in the 44 provinces, with a heavier participation in rural areas than in the cities.

The claims appeared highly questionable in some areas, owever, as witnesses to the voting reported turnouts apparently much below the figures issued by the

In Da Nang, for example, officials reported 104,421 voters, or about 73 per cent of the total in South Vietnam's second largest city. But another Vietnamese source said the actual showing probably was below 50 per cent.

At stake were 554 provincial council seats contested by 1,930 candidates, an average of more than three candidates for each

The provincial elections were the first since 1967 and the first under a reform program that gives the councils more power and a more representative base The councils will have a their disposal provincial development funds for such projects as roads, bridges, hospitals and sewer systems. Previously, the council member were chosen in province capitals, but Sunday candidates came from district levels as well.

Village and hamlet elections were held during the past year, and the next major step in making the geographical more than the communication. making the government more broadly representative is election of province chiefs. Most of them are now military officers appointed by the central government. The constitution provides that they are to be elected between 1971 and 1975.

Gehl 72 never quits till you do!

The Gehl FC72 Flail Chopper out throws 'em all . even in heavy, wet crops. Right now thousands of FC72s are out there cutting a big 72-in. swath - close and clean - in the heaviest crops. Throw power? The Gehl 72 breezes right through rain soaked, dew laden forage. Here are some of the reasons why:

39 Reversible Flails give you a full 6-ft. cut. Razor-edged, double-edged . . . for double chopping life. Mounted in gangs of six and seven for quick switching.

Powered Double Chopping lets you cut short and fast. Your crop is flail cut, then augered to the unitized fan and knives . . . cut again against an adjustable shear bar and blown to the wagon.

Easy-Swing Drawbar adjusts from your tractor seat. Change to any of four positions . . . three offset and one for transport, with the pull of a rope

Stage Stars Follow Odd -Couple to TV

HOLLYWOOD (AP) - In Jack Klugman's case, there is something to be said for typecasting.

In ABC's new "Odd Couple" series he plays Oscar Madison, the frumpy sportswriter, who shares an apartment with prissy

Felix Unger.

Between takes on the sound stage, Klugman said: "I ah Oscar. I'm a slob, as my wife will testify. I have my own closet and she's learned to stay out of

In his many roles on the stage, movies and television Klugman has often played a kind of Terrible Tempered Mr. Bangs. He says the typecasting stops

"I try to make life as simple as possible", he said. "I'm easy going. People think I'm not because of my roles." "The Odd Couple," in which Klugman co-stars with Tony Randall, is one of two Neil Simon creations being made into series for the fall season. The other is "Barefoot in the Park," with a black cast, and the two will air back-to-back Thursday nights.

Both actors played the roles on the stage. Klugman replaced Walter Matthau in the original Broadway production and was in the London company for a year. Randall played Felix on three occasions, in Las Vegas and twice in Chicago.

"I'm not too crazy about the idea that the series is presold." Klugman said. "You know Doc Simon is the greatest. It's going to be tough getting enough good scripts.

After filming a scene with Randall, Klugman was asked to compare Oscar on the stage and in the series.
